Before globalization, trade was going on between very distant lands.

- Minor in Pompeii
  - from India, ivory handle, a female fertility

- Water Pitcher in the tomb of Li Xian
  - Shape: Persia
  - Details: Central Asia, figures: Greek, Trojan War

- Exquisite objects in Shosoin Treasure House
  - from Vietnam, Western China, Iraq, The Roman Empire, Egypt

These evidence show the combination of different cultures.
Long before the globalization of our modern world, trade was going on between very distant lands, and the objects tell a story about a place and time.
Related

Object

Mirror

Pompeii

Evidence

Water pitcher

China

Cross: Cultural Evidence #3

16-2300B Cindy Tsai yfs

Vocabulary: fertility

archaeologist

fabric

military

armas

globalization

Countries

India

Shape: Persia (Iraq)

Details: Central Asia

Figures: Greek

8th century

Treasure house of Nara

Chin

Western China

Roman Empire

Vietnam

Egypt

Iraq

1003, 1013 Sam Win X23B
A. Cross-Culture Evidence.

- Pompeii: ruins of the ancient Roman city (1 BC)
  - Mirror: India
- Tomb of Li Xian: China (5th century)
  - Water pitcher
    - Shape from Persia (Iran)
    - Details from Central Asia
    - Figures from Greek stories (Trojan War)
- Shoso-in Treasure House: Japan Nara (8th century)
  - Furniture
  - Musical instruments (from Western China)
  - Weapons (Iraq, Roman Empire, Egypt)
  - Fabric
  - Military armor

VOC list:
- Fertility
- Military
- Archaeologist
- Pitcher
- Exquisite
- Armor
Conclusion:

Globalization has started long time ago, and trade was going on between very distant lands, and the objects tell a story about a place and time.

Cross-Cultural Evidence

- Shōsōin Treasure House: objects from many countries
- The tomb of Li Xian: Persian water pitcher, Greek statue
- Pompeii's mirror
- 8th century

Vietnam, Western China, Iraq, the Roman Empire, Egypt

79 C.E

569 C.E